IRAN PREMIER IN BID TO END OIL DISPUTE

Tehran, Iran (AP)—Premier Qavam extended a peace bid to the British today in the long bitter dispute over nationalization of Iran's oil. He also promised to resign if he fails to solve a nation's oil problems.

In a communique broadcast to a nation-wide radio, the newly-appointed premier declared: "The solving of this problem will be one of my most important efforts, so that the moral and material interests of Iran will be completely secured without the slightest rift in good relations between the two countries."

"Obviously this is a difficult job at it is not impossible. Good sense will definitely bring about a solution. If not I will leave this post."

Qavam's promise was his first public announcement since he took over yesterday as premier, succeeding Mossadegh.

Qavam, who headed the government in 1946 and 1947 and brought the nation safely through two dangerous disputes with Russia, was nominated for premier by the Majlis yesterday. Action by the Majlis alone was necessary, since the Senate is in recess.

Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi promptly gave his approval and ordered Qavam to form a new government.

The selection of the 77-year-old pro-Western rightist as the new government chief may ease the way to a settlement of the bitter quarrel with Britain over nationalization of the billion-dollar Anglo-Iranian Oil Company properties.

White House Studies Plan To Seize Part of Steel Industry Under Selective Service Act

BULLETIN
Washington (AP)—The White House was reported today to be seriously considering a plan to seize part of the steel industry under the Selective Service Act. This word came from a high administrative source who said Justice Department attorneys were instructed yesterday afternoon to prepare papers leading to possible partial seizure of the industry. The critical situation which has resulted from the 47-day steel strike was discussed yesterday at a White House meeting, presided over by Acting Defense Mobilization John R. Steelman. The Selective Service Act gives the President power to seize only plants which fail to produce under direct contract with procurement agencies.

Harrisburg (AP)—The six-week-old steel strike is costing Pennsylvania taxpayers an estimated $300,000 a month in the form of relief payments.

Deputy Assistant Secretary Robert F. Wray disclosed the figure today in reporting that general relief rolls jumped nearly 50 per cent between June 30 and July 15, the bulk of the new applicants coming from steel and coal counties.

"We have somewhat of a financial cushion to take care of this increased load but not for an indefinite period," he told a newsman. "The cushion came into being because of an unanticipated decrease in general assistance rolls during the winter months."

General assistance rolls as of mid-July totaled more than 38,000 persons compared to nearly 26,000 as of the end of June, an increase of about 12,000, Wray said.

Allegheny county led the list with 8,707 new applications in the two-week period, of 71 per cent of the entire state. Cambria, Fayette, Washington and Westmoreland followed in that order with 645,383, 335 and 297 applications, respectively.

These five counties, Wray explained, accounted for 85 per cent of the new relief load in Pennsylvania.

Striking steelworkers without financial reserves accounted for the bulk of the applications, but workers in allied industries such as soft coal, railroad and the like also contributed to the load, he added.

The 1951 legislature appropriated 135 million dollars for relief in Pennsylvania for the two years ending next May 31. More than half of it already has been spent.

Vice President Barkley Pulling Forward In Race for Top Spot on Democratic Ticket

ACTIVITIES OF OIL MONOPOLY UNDER PROBE

Washington (AP)—The government today prepared a brass-knuckle investigation designed to break up an alleged international oil monopoly by seven giants of the vital industry.

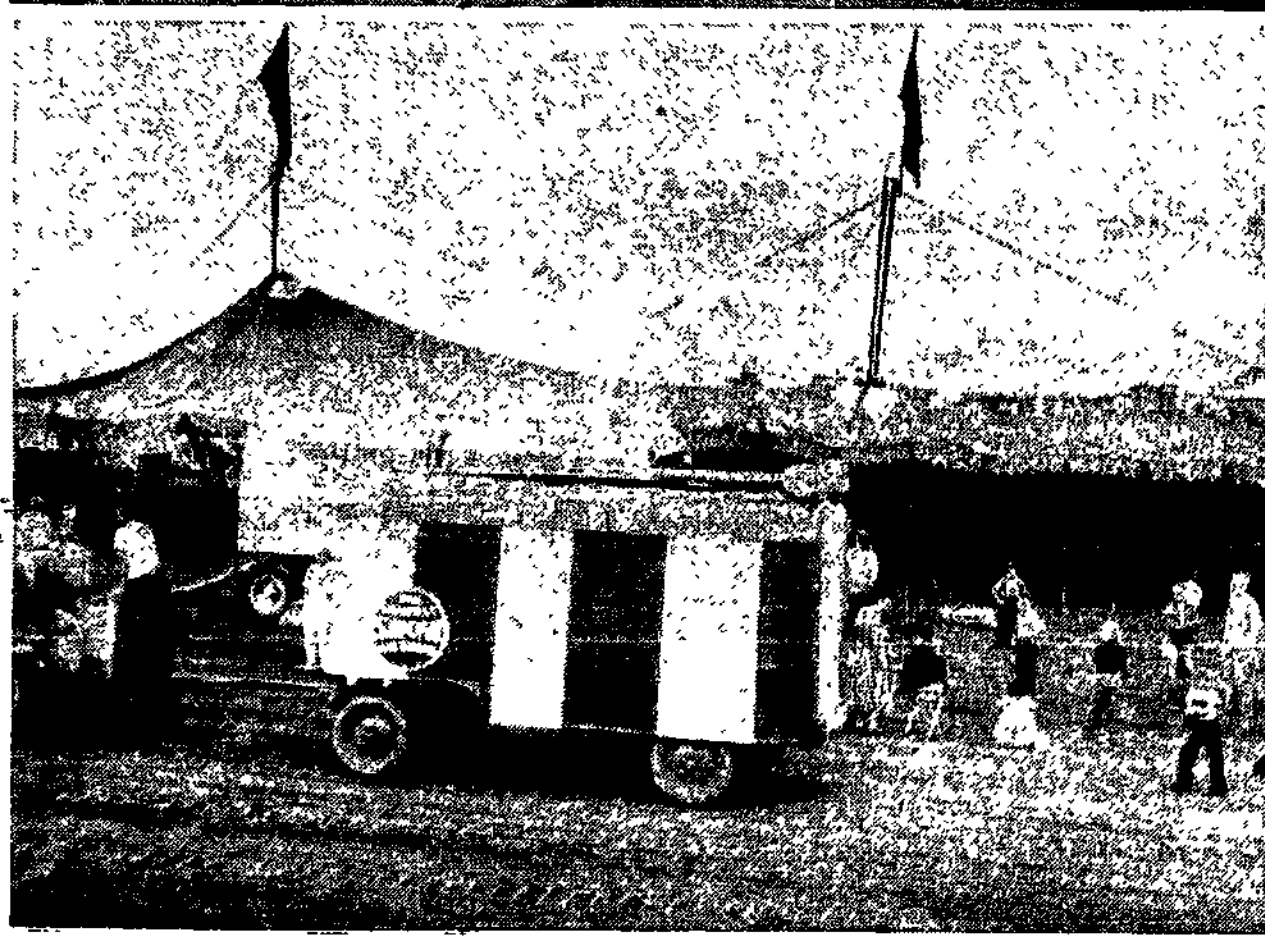

Atty. Gen. James P. McGranery told a news conference yesterday that a federal grand jury, sitting here, will shortly start probing into activities of what he called "the international oil cartel."

At the same time, McGranery said his department will institute a civil anti-trust suit against the seven companies in the District of Columbia courts.

The criminal proceedings are designed to punish past offenses. The civil proceedings are designed to prevent any repetition of the same offenses in the future.

LEADERS FROM ILLINOIS AND PA. IN HUDDLE

BULLETIN
Chicago (AP)—Fights for 70 seats in the Democratic National Convention got underway today before a credentials subcommittee. The committee, sitting in court style, had on its docket contests from two states—Texas and Mississippi. In each case, the contestants were states' rights or anti-administration delegations on the one side and pro-administration "loyalists" delegations on the other. The hearings began in the north ballroom of the Conrad Hilton Hotel. They were open to newsmen, the public, newsreel and TV cameras and all other photographers.

Chicago (AP)—Vice President Alben W. Barkley pulled a stride forward today in his race for the Democratic presidential nomination with reports he will get some first ballot support from Illinois.

While all candidates jockeyed for position in advance of the opening of the 31st Democratic Nominating Convention Monday, there were signs that Jacob Arvey, Illinois national committeeman, is ready to take a political flier on the 74-year-old vice president.

Arvey and Mayor David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania national committeeman, conferred with Barkley strategists.

There were immediate reports that Arvey had told the Barkley leaders he would use his influence to get as many as possible of Illinois' 60 convention votes lined up for Barkley on the first ballot.

Lawrence was said to have noted that the 70-vote Pennsylvania delegation is split up, but to have indicated that Barkley might count on some votes there.

These developments came during a temporary lull in the seething pre-convention battle over civil rights that might explode into a floor fight.

No less seething were some Southern delegations over the action of Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia in denouncing the Taft-Hartley Act.

Russell added to the controversy by saying in a televised news conference last night that he sees no reason why he couldn't support President Truman for re-election—in the unlikely event Truman runs.

Russell's political pass at the Truman camp surprised and angered Dixie leaders who originally had nudged him into the race as the anti-Truman candidate of the South.

Former Gov. William M. Tamm, who was ready to laud Russell's candidacy before the Virginia Democratic Convention at Roanoke cut out of a prepared speech all reference to Russell's name.

And Sen. Harry S. Byrd commented that he just didn't understand Russell's about-face on a law the Georgian voted to enact over President Truman's veto.

Byrd said he still wants to support Russell however.

Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas told reporters he wasn't going to let Russell's move on the labor front interfere with his support of the Georgia senator, adding: "I wouldn't expect him to agree with me in every detail."

Mother Ordered To Support Daughter

Chicago (AP)—A mother was ordered by Superior Judge L. I. Winn yesterday to pay $250 monthly for support of her 9-year-old daughter who was placed in custody of the father.

Judge Winn ruled in granting a divorce to Charles Katyll, 47, a fire captain, from Mrs. Lucille Katyll, 43. He held that Mrs. Katyll should be compelled to contribute to support of their daughter, Amette, because Mrs. Katyll has a substantial income. There had been testimony she receives $24,000 annually from a trust established by her father.

Under Illinois law, either party to divorce proceedings may be compelled to contribute to support of children of the marriage. However, rarely have judges ordered the woman to make payments.

Katyll was granted the divorce on grounds of adultery. Judge Winn dismissed Mrs. Katyll's cross-bill for divorce alleging desertion.

Pseudo-Scientist Being Arraigned For Fantastic Slaying

New York (AP)—A fanatic who claims the key to mankind's greatest secret—eternal life—appears in court today, accused of one of mankind's greatest crimes—murder.

Bayard P. Peakes, 29-year-old pseudo-scientist, is to be arraigned in Felony Court, charged with killing pretty Eileen Fahey—a slaying he admitted in a fantastic confession.

He said he killed the 18-year-old blonde stenographer for the American Physical Society because the scientific body had rejected his theories on how to live forever.

He didn't even know her. He had marked eight others for death, but he saw her first.

"I was going to shoot anybody," police quoted him.

Why? police asked.

"It was my book," Peakes whined.

"They wouldn't look at my book. They wouldn't even look at it."

The book was his 13,000-word thesis, "How to Live Forever." He had printed 7,500 copies of it with $1,000 he saved. But no organization would publish it.

Kiss With Caution Is Warning to Red Girls

Berlin (AP)—The Communists urged unmarried women today to kiss with caution.

Anna Welch, leader of the women's committee of the Soviet zone railway system, told a Communist women's meeting: "Our unmarried colleagues should make certain their friends and sweethearts are ideologically safe."

Western agents and spies, she said, frequently use courtship methods to worm their way into the Red nest.

Dauphin Co. Judges Study Testimony In Slaying of Youth

Harrisburg (AP)—Four Dauphin county judges today studied a three-day record of testimony to determine the degree of guilt of 14-year-old John C. Sarver in the slaying of a 13-year-old boy, companion.

Dist. Atty. Huette F. Dowling asked yesterday that Sarver be found guilty of second degree murder in the rifle-machete death of Kenneth E. Teacher Jr.

Solomon Hurwitz, attorney for Sarver, however, asked the court to find the boy guilty of manslaughter. This would carry a penalty of six to 12 years in prison, compared to 10 to 20 years for second degree murder.

Young Sarver pleaded guilty at the outset to a general charge of murder and waived a jury trial.

The district attorney said he had taken the boy's age into consideration in not asking for a first degree murder verdict.

Hurwitz declared that the factors in murder of "deliberate premeditation with intent to kill with malice" were lacking in the case.

He said Sarver was guilty only of the element of "willful" murder when he cut across Teacher's abdomen with a machete knife to cover up a bullet wound after the young victim was accidentally shot in target practice on May 5.

Dowling maintained that there was "some degree of murder" in Sarver's action "if there was as little as one minute of life left, when taken maliciously."

Truman Receiving Last of Series of Medical Tests Now

Washington (AP)—President Truman's doctor gave him the last of a series of medical tests today while Democratic politicians waited impatiently for his dismissal from the hospital.

After nearly a week's bout with a virus infection, the president's temperature had returned to normal, but Democratic presidential aspirants could not boast as much with the Chicago National Convention opening Monday.

Truman expects to return to the White House tomorrow, but there is no indication that he plans to make known his choice of a successor in advance of the balloting.

And Truman's own alternate to the Democratic convention, the man who will cast his vote, was unable to see the president during a trip to Washington this week.

Tom J. Gavin of Kansas City apparently was en route home without getting an audience with the president because of Truman's illness and his subsequent trip to the Army's Walter Reed Hospital for a complete checkup.

Presidential Secretary Joseph Short told reporters that "to the best of my knowledge" Gavin did not talk with the president and that he knew Gavin did not see Truman personally.

No Sign of Break In Truce Negotiations

Munsan, Korea (AP)—Korean truce negotiators resumed off-the-record talks today with no sign of a break in the deadlock over prisoner exchange.

Sweltering United Nations and Communist delegates met 41 minutes in the parleys tent at Panmunjom. The meeting ended a four-day recess asked by the Reds. They agreed on another session at 11 a. m. tomorrow (9 p. m., Friday, EST).

Seoul, Korea (AP)—A tank-supported Communist battalion attacked through drenching rains today in a fruitless effort to push Allied soldiers off battle scarred "Old Baldy" hill on the Korean Western Front.

No More Important Election in History Than That of 1952, Rep. Gavin Warns

Rep. Leon H. Gavin, congressman from the 23rd Pennsylvania district, spent Thursday in the office of Jesse G. Smith, Workmen's Compensation Referee, 210 Warren National Bank building, for the purpose of meeting constituents in the area who called there to confer with him on matters mostly of personal nature.

Before leaving he visited the Times-Mirror office, and a number of other offices and industries. He also inspected the mill race project, and praised highly the possibilities for the reclaimed channel.

Regarding the national political situation, pertaining to the Republican ticket, Mr. Gavin said: "General Eisenhower, the Republican Presidential candidate is a great candidate; a sound, clear thinking American, practical and realistic and will make a great president."

"I cannot impress too strongly upon our people the fact that every election in the United States is important because the exercise of the right to vote and the freedom to select one's representatives and officials is the very basis of freedom and self-government. There is no more important election in the history of our country than the one we are coming to."

For too long a time, said the congressman, the machinery of American government has sputtered and backed its uncertain way along the path of our history. The party in power has destroyed itself by inner conflict. Today it is shattered by differences so wide and so deep it is incapable of providing the unified and effective leadership that our country so desperately needs. It is a party bankrupt in efficiency and leadership.

"In view of what has been happening it becomes necessary for the solidarity of our national interest that the Republican party spearhead the job of slowly, but

The program will begin at 1:30 p. m. with setting the machines in operation. Some of the implements which will be used in the demonstration are: John Deere tool bar orchard cultivator, a John

At 1:45 p. m. all the machines will be stopped and a short program of explanation by the College specialists will follow. This will be about a half hour program after which the operation of the equipment will continue.

Co-operating in furnishing the power and equipment for this project are Charles Camp; John Moravick, Spring Creek; Youngsville Farm Supply; Ernest Hultberg, Youngsville; Pennsylvania State College; and Oscar Lauger, Pittsfield.

The Charles Camp farm is located on Cole Hill about three miles south of Garland. There will be signs at Garland directing people to the demonstration.

Annual Parade Is Staged By V. F. W. Today in Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh (AP)—Thousands of Veterans of Foreign Wars members donned their dress uniforms today to parade through downtown Pittsburgh in a highlight of the annual three-day state encampment.

A business meeting was scheduled to follow the parade with officers for the coming year to be nominated. The election will be tomorrow.

The organization, which boasts nearly 200,000 members in Pennsylvania, took a stand against Communism yesterday after hearing an address by Sen. Edward Martin (R-Pa.). Martin said veterans must stay in the thick of the fight to keep America strong against Red infiltration.

Every Communist is a "conspirator against American freedom," Martin said. He added: "We must drive out of our educational institutions every teacher who adheres to the Communist doctrine. We must stimulate

Not Much Early Relief in Sight From Heat Blistering Two-Thirds of the East

The heat was on again today over most of the eastern two-thirds of the nation and not much early widespread relief was in sight.

There were showers and thunder storms over wide areas of the hot belt, affording temporary relief.

PAY ON NEW TRUCK

Columbus volunteer firemen in a regular meeting Wednesday night, authorized a payment of $1,100 toward the cost of a new fire truck purchased two years ago, President Arthur Hill said. Firemen expressed the hope that, at the present rate, the debt on the truck can be liquidated in the coming three years. Initial plans were made for a donkey baseball game which will be staged at 8:30 p. m. on August 1. In conjunction with this game it is also planned to set off the fireworks which had been planned as part of the Firemen's Festival but were canceled because of rain. A fire fighting trip

500 Spectators Attend Annual Huck Finn Day

Sixty-eight youngsters competed for the various prizes which are awarded at the Annual Huck Finn Day ceremonies in Crescent Park Playground sponsored by the Warren Field and Stream Club. The three judges had a difficult time choosing this year's Huck Finn and Becky Thatcher from a large group of festively attired girls and boys, with straw hats, jeans, bandaged toes, freckled faces and homemade fishing tackle constituting requirements of the participants.

With five hundred people, a corps of photographers, and all the thorough playground supervisors present this event was a colorful, fast moving, real day of fun for both young and old.

This year's Huck Finn was Marlene LeTrent, 302 Eddy street, left, and Jane Barrett, 19 Franklin street, right was chosen as his girl friend, Becky Thatcher. Both will receive portraits from Kofod studio, 230 Pennsylvania avenue, east. These winners were also given cash prizes by the Warren Field and Stream Club.

Other winners receiving cash prizes from the Warren Field and Stream Club were Danny Madigan, 96 Gayuga Avenue, as the youngest fisherman at the ripe age of 10 years; Dennis Couss, 19 West 15th Avenue, who caught the smallest fish; and Michael Fisk, 99 Dartmouth street, who caught the most fish. An additional interesting feature of this event was the real Mississippi River float barge, made by the children of the teaty Playground, eight or ten of whom were fully costumed and rode the float into the 'Crescent' playgrounds. This float was also awarded a cash prize.

At least fifty participants enjoyed the final grand plunge into the wading pool to capture the fish which had evaded the baited fish hooks of the anxious young anglers.

When ice floats on water, only about one-ninth of its bulk is above the surface.

BLUEPRINT OF PENN'A LIQUOR CONTROL BOARD

(First of a series of articles planned by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board.)

Harrisburg—The Liquor Code is an effective blue print for the operations of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board.

It governs the three main functions, buying and selling distilled spirits and wine, issuing licenses and permits and enforcing the laws and regulations.

The Code combines in one package all previous laws which controlled the traffic in liquor and beer. It was approved at the last session of the General Assembly and is all-inclusive except for a few amendments enacted before adjournment.

Carrying a stern injunction from the original Liquor Control Act—"to prohibit forever the open saloon," the Liquor Code asserts that: "This act shall be deemed an exercise of the police power of the Commonwealth for the protection of the public welfare, health, peace and morals of the people of the Commonwealth."

The liquor and beer industries in Pennsylvania are highly regulated. Carefully worded passages may be found throughout the Liquor Code limiting, restricting and restraining the traffic in intoxicating beverages and prohibiting the interlocking of business interests.

The Liquor Code clothes the Liquor Control Board with broad and sweeping powers. For example, the Board is empowered to grant, issue, suspend and revoke all licenses and permits; to determine in which municipalities State stores may be established; and, among other powers, to determine the nature, form and capacity of all packages and original containers for liquor or malt or brewed beverages.

LAYS OFF MEN

Titusville Herald: The long steel strike is beginning to affect Titusville economy more and more. Well-placed sources said yesterday that lack of steel obliged Struthers-Wells Corporation to lay off 16 men this week. A few more are scheduled to be laid off at the end of the week, it was understood. Struthers-Wells is a fabricating plant.

CAR HITS RAILING

State police answered a call to a one-car accident at one a. m. today when an automobile operated by Roger K. Warner, of Akeley RD 2, skidded and struck the guard railing on Route 62 near the high board fence north of Warren. Warner was uninjured, although his car took out three posts. Damage to the vehicle was estimated at $250.

CONGRESSMAN "BACK HOME": The above picture taken Thursday afternoon, shows Congressman Leon H. Gavin, candidate for re-election from the 23rd Pennsylvania District, on one of his periodical visits to communities in his area to talk over personal and public affairs with constituents. He held forth yesterday in the office of Jesse G. Smith, Workmen's Compensation Referee, center, 210 Warren National Bank Building, and during the afternoon took time out to have a visit with Mr. Smith and Mrs. George C. Sarvis, right, president of the Warren County Council of Republican Women. Mr. Gavin held between 25 and 30 conferences with residents of the section who were pleased at the opportunity to "talk it over with their congressman" without making the expensive trip to Washington. Before leaving for Oil City Mr. Gavin inspected the filling in of the mill race and praised highly the persons responsible for this reclamation project and its possibilities for providing unlimited parking and building land almost in the heart of the business district.

HAM FOR A CROWD

BAKED HAM... Party fare from a can

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Want an easy-to-do main course for a porch or backyard supper? Then choose a canned ham; you get a lot of boneless meat for your money, you can prepare it quickly, and carve it into attractive, uniform slices. Practically everyone likes ham, so you're safe in serving it for a party. But one precaution: After you buy it, keep the unopened canned ham in the refrigerator.

With the ham serve scalloped potatoes or potato salad; in either case add a tossed green salad for texture contrast. Rolls, relishes, a frosty beverage, fresh fruit and cookies can complete the menu. Here's a special recipe for the ham:

BAKED CANNED HAM FOR A CROWD

Remove ham from can. (Save jelly surrounding ham for soups or sauces.) Slice ham into one-eighth to one-quarter inch slices. The slices together with string to form original-shaped loaf. Place on a sheet of aluminum foil and bring foil up to cover sides of ham. Spread orange marmalade over top surface. Place ham on a rack in a shallow baking pan. Heat in a moderate (350 F.) oven 1½ hours. Remove string and serve hot. Plan on 4 to 5 servings per pound; one pound will yield about five slices one-quarter inch thick, 10 slices about one-eighth inch thick.

If you want more delicious recipes for ham and other meats you'll find them in a new publication, "Martha Logan's Meat Cook Book," by Beth Bailey McLean and Thora Hegstad Campbell (Pocket Books, 25c). Because the authors of this book have had years of experience both in meat cookery research and home kitchens these recipes are utterly reliable. In addition there are all kinds of interesting variations of basic meat (including poultry) recipes and all the information you need to buy meats economically and wisely. Here's one of the most interesting recipes in the book—but don't try to substitute a fancy cut of beef for the low-grade beef called for. It just won't work as well.

BEEF TENDERLOIN ROYALE
Ingredients: One beef tenderloin

(low grade) 4 to 6 pounds, ¼ cup salad oil or bacon drippings.

Method: Remove surface fat and connective tissue from tenderloin. Place on a rack in a roasting pan. Tuck narrow end of tenderloin under to make the roast an even thickness. Brush with oil. Insert a roast meat thermometer into the center of the thickest part. Roast in a hot oven (450 F.) 45 to 60 minutes or to an internal temperature of 140 F. Serve hot with fried onion rings or browned mushrooms. Yield: 8 to 12 slices (1 inch thick).

FARM SAFETY WEEK
To back up President Truman's call for the adoption of right attitudes toward farm safety during National Farm Safety Week, July 20-26, the National Safety Council lists 10 right attitudes which are manifested by a desire to:
1. TAKE TIME TO TAKE CARE: Realize that haste makes waste. Short cuts or failure to stop long enough to correct a hazard may result in a loss of time, money and health.
2. BE OPEN-MINDED TO SAFETY SUGGESTIONS: New machines and techniques mean new hazards. A wise farmer listens to the safety lessons his children bring home from school or farm group meetings. He profits from radio and news items that bring him safety information or reminders.
3. CHECK AND DOUBLE-CHECK: Make sure your equipment is in safe operating condition. Don't gamble with your life and happiness.
4. TAKE SAFETY SERIOUSLY: Don't be a traffic scofflaw. Know and obey commonsense safety rules. Be alert for danger at all times.
5. KEEP YOUR FARM IN ORDER: Have a place for everything and keep everything in its place. Be a good housekeeper in the home as well as on the farm.
6. PLAN AHEAD: Allowing adequate time reduces the temptation to hurry.
7. BE FIRESIGHTED: Don't smoke around the barn. Don't smoke in bed. Break matches in two before discarding them. Mark oil and gasoline cans in red. Get rid of fire hazards in barns, basements, and attics.
8. BE COURTEOUS ON THE HIGHWAY: A courteous driver believes in living and letting live. Courtesy saves lives. Mind your motor manners.
9. SUPPORT SAFETY EDUCATION: Be a safety example to your children. Encourage safety instruction in schools. Take advantage of every opportunity to learn more about safety.
10. FOLLOW SAFETY INSTRUCTIONS: Replace that shield. Stop machinery before oiling, or adjusting. Realize that printed instructions are "signs of life" wherever they occur.

SCARE-CAMPAIGNING "SAVIORS"
The other day Averell Harriman, in a bit of post-GOP convention politicking, raised the specter of depression as a likely thing if General Eisenhower should be elected next fall. The country will be well served if that argument is never made again. To be sure, it is an old refrain, and the Democrats have been chanting it since 1932.
But politics by fear is not good politics—at any rate, good for the American citizenry. Actually, campaigning of this sort falls into the category of desperation. It seems to say: "If you can't think of any other effective arguments, scare 'em to death."
The Republican Party is not the party of economic depression, any more than the Democratic Party is the party of war, though the regimes of each have corresponded with those two great catastrophes in the last 20 years.
No responsible Democrat ever blames former President Hoover for the 1930 depression any more, though many naturally insist emphatically that he did not meet that crisis well.
No sober-minded Republican blames the Democrats for the rise of Hitler, and for the war he launched upon the world. To charge any American political party with seeking to thrust us into war is to lunge toward the extremes of irresponsibility.
Haven't we had enough of scare-campaigning? No one familiar with our traditions expects our political candidates to make their appeals wholly calm and rational. Emotion and exaggeration are inevitably a part of campaign exhortations in this country. But to hold out the prospect of economic or military ruin as the alternative to the triumph of one candidate or the other is unforgivable demagoguery.
Nobody but a fanatic would consciously strive to plunge this nation into any kind of disaster. Both major parties, it goes without saying, are clearly wedded to policies they believe serve the welfare of the United States.
America has survived weak presidents in both parties. It needs no saviors. Indeed, it ought to be saved from any man who sees himself as the only barrier to military or economic ruin.

Here And There
September 28th, 1887, that is almost 65 years ago, P. T. Barnum's Greatest Show on Earth, Combined with the Great London Three-Ring Circus, and Monster Roman Hippodrome, appeared in Warren. September 30th, 1887, the next issue, following the appearance of the attraction, the Warren Ledger carried the following comment:
Barnum's circus drew an immense crowd last Wednesday. The tent which had a seating capacity of about 15,000 was well filled. The show was first-class in every respect, and the parade fully up to expectations. During the evening performance Miss Levens who was riding in the running races hugged the poles too close and received a violent blow in the face. She fainted and fell from the horse, but was dragged considerable distance before her skirt gave way. She regained consciousness in a short time and was not materially injured beyond a very black eye and bruised face.
This famous railroad world of wonders grows and grows with each succeeding year, and it is not surprising that it draws tremendous crowds, along with such complimentary protests that it is "big," "too much for the money," "can't see half of it," "will they never stop?" This season Mr. Barnum's arms have grown long enough to reach out and capture King Theobald's extraordinary hairy family of masochists. Another unprecedented evidence of growth, is the construction in the great arena of an artificial lake, in whose waters that famous knight-errant of the deep, Paul Boynton, gives his wonderful nautical exhibitions. Even the great Jumbo, has, so to speak, grown to become a doubly colossal wonder, for not only has Prof. Henry A. Ward, the distinguished naturalist of Rochester, N. Y., perpetuated him in towering majesty, and life-like naturalness, but placed beside his stupendous form his tremendous skeleton, something the like of which the reader never will look upon again. Associated with this marvel is also Jumbo's wife, "Alice," who gently treats all children to free rides and has come clear from England especially to see them. The grand free street parade has grown ever larger, and richer, as was demonstrated by the satisfaction of the huge throngs that witnessed it in Warren.
Terse, Tart and Timely: The Joseph Hassett contracting crew has started work on laying a sidewalk in front of the new office of the Pennsylvania Gas Company nearing completion in North Center street in Corry. The board of directors of the New Process Company in Warren has declared a dividend of 50 cents per share on the no par common stock, payable August 1, to stockholders of record July 21, 1952. The State Milk Control Commission has scheduled a hearing for July 24 at Smithport to consider abolishing a five-cent bottle deposit in McKean county. The program for the annual Wattsburg Fair, August 26 through August 30, has been completed, it has been announced by Harry Burrows, fair secretary. Clinton Pratt, one of Corry's leading stock car racing officials, has been named a N.A.S.C.A.R. official for the district. Congressman Leon H. Gavin breezed into the office about 3:30 Thursday afternoon for his usual chat on his periodical visit to Warren where he held "open house" in the office of Compensation Referee J. G. Smith, Warren National Bank building throughout the day and conferred with no less than 25 or 30 constituents who discussed a wide variety of problems with him. Although in a hurry to keep other appointments in nearby places the representative took time to survey the reclamation project Nelson & Ellberg have under way in filling in and leveling off the mill race. And that reminds us, if you haven't been over there lately, better take time (after the circus, of course) to inspect this job. You'll agree with everyone else—it's simply amazing!

 EDSON IN CHICAGO ***
Dems' 16 (Maybe) Candidates Hopeful of 'Nod' at Big Fracas
BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
CHICAGO (NEA)—With 16 possible candidates for the Democratic nomination for President, anything can happen at the party's convention here. And it probably will.
By tradition and natural inclination, the Democrats have always put on a better show than the Republicans. The Democrats will have to go some this time, however, if they put on a better performance for drama, humor, suspense and fast action than the Republican vaudeville that is now gone but still not forgotten.
The shadow of the Republican nominee, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, of course, hangs over the Democratic fracas. If Senator Taft had been the GOP nominee, every Democrat from precinct committeeman up would have wanted to take him on. Against General Eisenhower, there may be some reluctance to run.
Heading the list are the Four Favorites. First is Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, who claims from 300 to 400 delegate votes and actually has a little over 250 nailed down. Behind him is Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia, with a claim of 300-vote first-ballot strength and a firm count of around 150.
BEHIND these two southerners are two northerners who are in the unusual position of hoping that they get The Nod. The Nod, of course, is recognition and an official blessing from President Harry S. Truman.
Up to now Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois has had The Nod held out in front of him on a silver platter. But since he has been so reluctant to grab it and run, there is now considerable belief that The Nod will be given to W. Averell Harriman of New York.
Mr. Harriman has a little over 100 pledged delegate votes, but hopes he can muster 150 by first ballot time. Governor Stevenson has only 54 pledged delegates without ever having announced himself as a candidate, and he makes no claim of having any more.
In the group behind the Four Favorites are what might be known as the Seven Favorite Sons. The interesting thing about this Seven Sons group is that together they have 190 pledged delegates' votes.
This isn't enough to give any one of the Four Favorites the nomination. But it would give any candidate a big shove if it could be mustered behind him by the political bosses. It probably can't.
THE Democratic convention will have 1230 votes, with 616 necessary for a choice. But of the 1230 delegates, 886 district delegates will have a full vote apiece while 688 will have a half a vote apiece for a sub-total of 344.
Of the Seven Favorite Sons, Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma has 38 pledged votes. Vice President Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, 28; Robert J. Bulkley of Ohio, 27; Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, 40; Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, 26; Sen. Brian McMahon of Connecticut, 16, and Governor Dever of Massachusetts, 15.
Finally there are the Five Fractious. These are the candidates—willing and unwilling—with splinter strength of from a half of one vote committed, like House Speaker Sam Rayburn, up to the grand total of three pledged to Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois.
Others in this group are Chief Justice Fred Vinson and Federal Security Administrator Oscar Ewing with two apiece; ex-Sen. Scott Lucas of Illinois and Justice Bill Douglas with one apiece.
Last but not least, the 17th possible starter there is the old maestro himself, President Truman. He says he's not running. But he's going to get a starter of 14 votes, anyway.

KNOW YOUR STATE

prepared for the Times Mirror by the State Planning Board, Department of Commerce.

PENNSYLVANIA'S RESOURCES AS SEEN IN 1832

ordon's Gazetteer of the State of Pennsylvania, published in 1832, gives a vivid picture of Pennsylvania, 120 years ago and gives us a glimpse of the rich resources of the state and of the need for their preservation. Some of the state's resources, however, the State Planning Board of the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce points out, sent striking evidence of the changes which have occurred during the past five generations.

It was estimated in 1832 by Thomas F. Gordon, the author of the "Gazetteer," that the northern anthracite field contained 1,396,000,000 tons of coal which could not be exhausted in ten thousand years. Actually, during the ensuing 120 years, more than four times that estimated tonnage has been extracted from the northern field an 1,600,000,000 tons of coal still recoverable, but the ten thousand years of production allotted to that field have been reduced to an estimated life as of today, of approximately 50 years.

In 1831, Pennsylvania was reported as producing 32,156 tons of iron and 5,506 tons of castings. Such looks rather small compared to the state's last year's iron output of 22,000,000 tons.

Salt was one of the most precious resources of the Commonwealth 120 years ago. But the economic importance of that mineral in Pennsylvania has in recent years depended on the fact that it was in the salt wells of our southwestern counties that seepings of oil first revealed the presence of petroleum in the great Bradford field. Pennsylvania's measures of salt still remain largely untapped deep below the soil of the State's western counties, although salt from shallower deposits in the same geologic horizon provides raw material for an important industry in western New York.

In regard to one of Pennsylvania's great natural resources, soil, this early writer presents us with a report which explains rather well why Pennsylvania with its limited area is still one of the great agricultural states of our Nation after 120 more years of cultivation—"The State of Pennsylvania," Gordon writes, "is perhaps the best cultivated of all states in the Union; that is, more of the farmers have dropped the ancient practice of wearing out one field and going on to clear away the trees of another without adopting any system of manuring by plaster or rotation of crops, so as to keep the lands once cleared continually in heart. Most of the Pennsylvania farmers, like their farmers in Europe, make their fields better and richer in proportion to the time they have been in culture. It is, therefore, partly to nature that we are indebted for the prosperous state of agriculture in this Commonwealth." This statement remains quite true today.

VETERANS' INFORMATION

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—I am a school teacher and a World War II veteran. I took GI Bill training last summer, and I expect to continue this summer. But I became ill and will have to stay in bed for a couple of months. Will I be able to go ahead with my studies next summer, or will I lose out because I skipped a summer?

A—You will be permitted to continue with your GI studies next summer, since this summer's interruption has been for a reason beyond your control. Of course, you must continue to be employed as a teacher during consecutive regular school years.

Q—I am a peacetime veteran, having gone into service after World War II and having been discharged before Korea. I have a service-connected disability for which I draw compensation. May I have this disability treated by VA on an outpatient basis?

A—A veteran may be furnished outpatient treatment by VA for any compensable service-connected disability, whether incurred during wartime or peacetime service.

Q—Is it possible to pay GI insurance premium in advance, rather than on a monthly basis?

A—Yes. If you pay in advance, you save a certain amount every year. Payments in advance may be made either quarterly, semi-annually or annually.

The choicest of the summer's flowers are gathered today for a great big bouquet to Charles C. and Alta Wilson, esteemed residents of Bear Lake, who will be celebrating their 75th wedding anniversary on Sunday, July 20. Their family, including two sons who have already seen their old golden wedding days, will gather at home Sunday. While no formal party has been planned, a cordial invitation is extended to friends and neighbors to call during the day. Coming from away will be a grandson, Reggie, of Pittsburgh, and a granddaughter, Mrs. Charlene Williams, of Portageville, N. Y. In connection with announcement of the coming of Reggie, who is vice president and general manager of the William Penn Hotel in Pittsburgh, Rosie Rowswell mentioned the couple on his Wednesday Pirate broadcast, extending his congratulations and best wishes to the Bear Lake couple.

The Wilsons were married in Carry on July 20, 1877, and have spent their entire lifetime in Warren county. Mr. Wilson, who will be 95 in September, operated a farm on Wilson Hill and owned a general grocery for many years, retiring about 35 years ago. However, only last summer he tackled the job of shingling the family home. His wife will be 91 this October. Active in the IOOF and Rebekah lodges, each is a 50-year member and they rarely miss a meeting. In years past, Mr. Wilson was a Warren county Republican committeeman and was at one time a director of the Conewango Trust Company of Warren.

Joining in the anniversary celebration Sunday will be two sons, Earl, of Youngville, who, with his wife, marked his 54th wedding anniversary last March, and Clyde, of Niobe, N. Y., whose golden wedding day was just a month ago; also their three grandchildren.

Talk to Him of His Interests And He'll Be a Good Listener

"HE never really listens when I try to carry on a conversation with him" wives often complain in their letters to this column. Granted that a man SHOULD—if for no other reason than for the sake of politeness—really listen to whatever his wife has to say, the truth of the matter is that most husbands aren't that gracious at home.

So if he doesn't listen, there's no use in fuming that he should. The only sensible thing to do is to admit that if he doesn't listen, then he isn't interested; that you're expecting your husband to be interested in subjects because you are interested in them.

So what can you do about that? Why, instead of expecting him to be as fascinated with a discussion of what to do about draperies for the living room as another woman would be, just face the fact that he isn't and isn't likely to even pretend to be.

So instead of talking about the draperies and feeling hurt because you can't get his attention, save that kind of talk for your women friends.

HE WON'T PLAY GAME OF PRETENSE

FIGURE out what your husband IS interested in, and talk about that. Then he'll listen.

Remember, you spend your days one way, and your husband spends his another.

What interests you vitally doesn't necessarily interest him. Being a woman, you willingly make a pretense of being interested in anything that interests your husband. But don't expect the same kind of pretense from him.

He probably won't play that game. If a conversation bores him he'll escape behind his newspaper, or cut you off with an ungracious remark.

So the only way you can make sure that he pays attention when you talk is to talk about something that you know he is interested in. If you aren't willing to do that, then it's useless to complain that he never really listens to you.

Cooperation Urged In Observance Of Farm Safety Week

Encouraging all farm residents to adopt right attitudes toward farm safety is the goal set by President Truman in proclaiming the ninth annual observance of National Farm Safety Week, July 20-26, 1952.

The president's proclamation says, in part: "The number of unnecessary casualties from accidents can be greatly reduced by the exercise of caution and intelligent effort on the part of each farm family."

"I urgently request every farm resident to cooperate in carrying out effective safety measures. . . I also request all organizations and persons interested in farm life to join in a campaign to emphasize the importance of developing attitudes toward safety which will help prevent accidents on the farm."

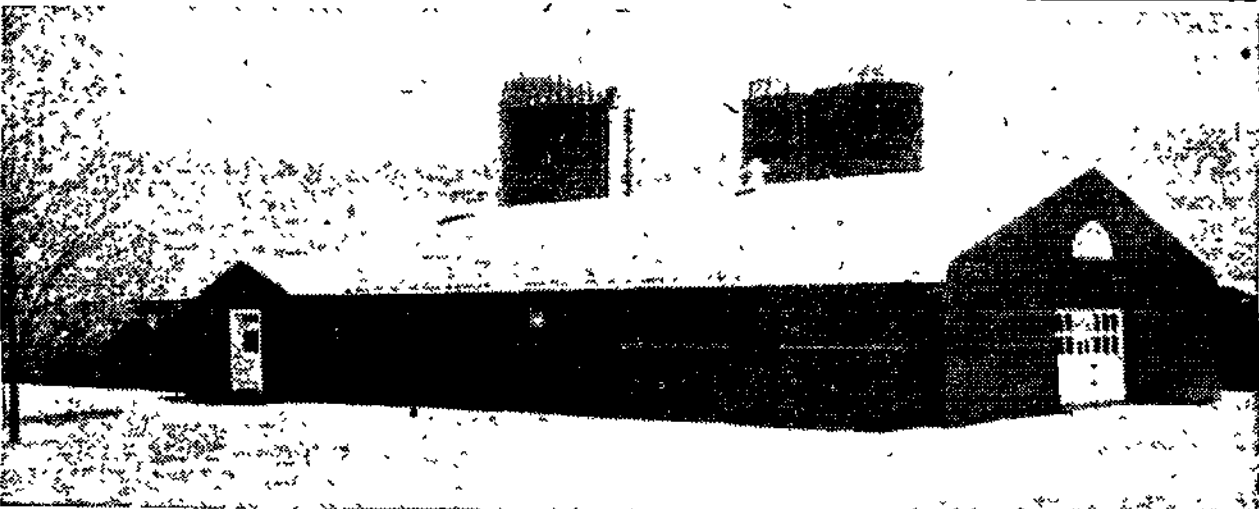

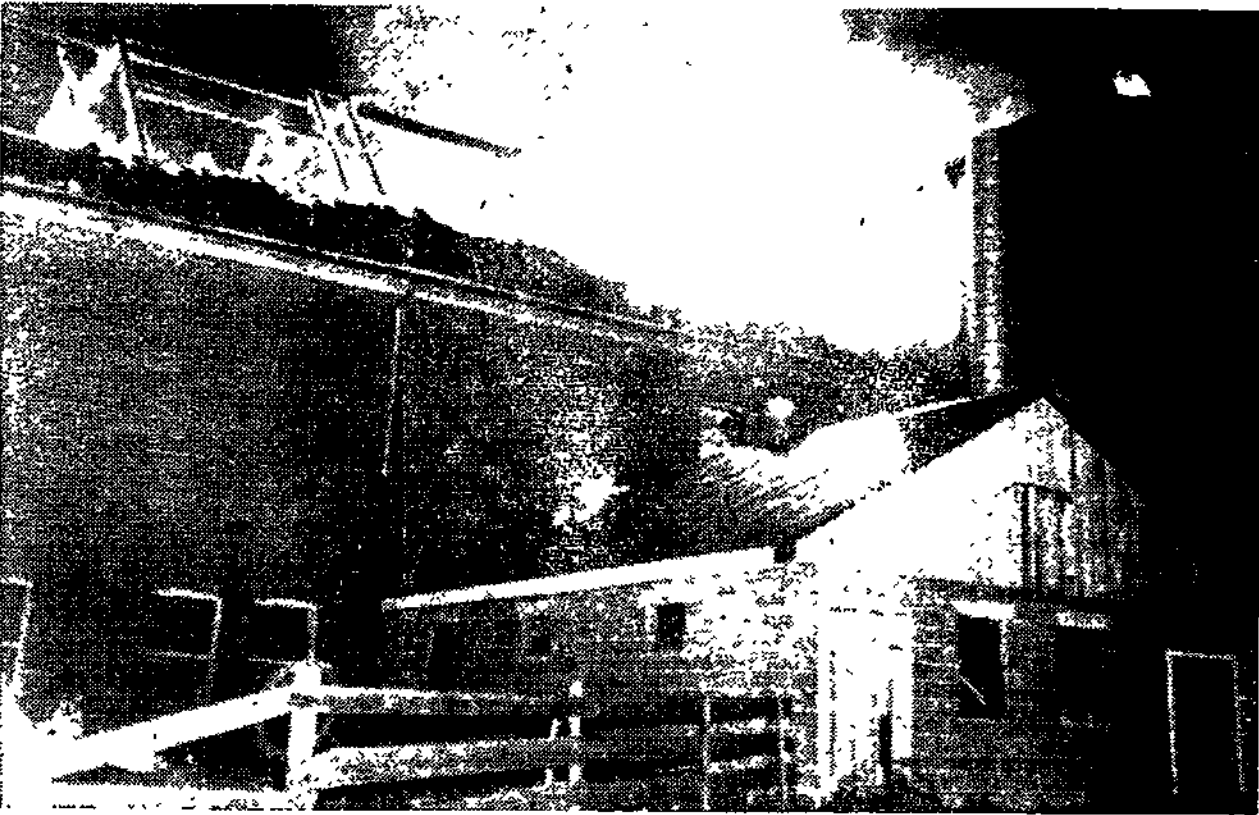

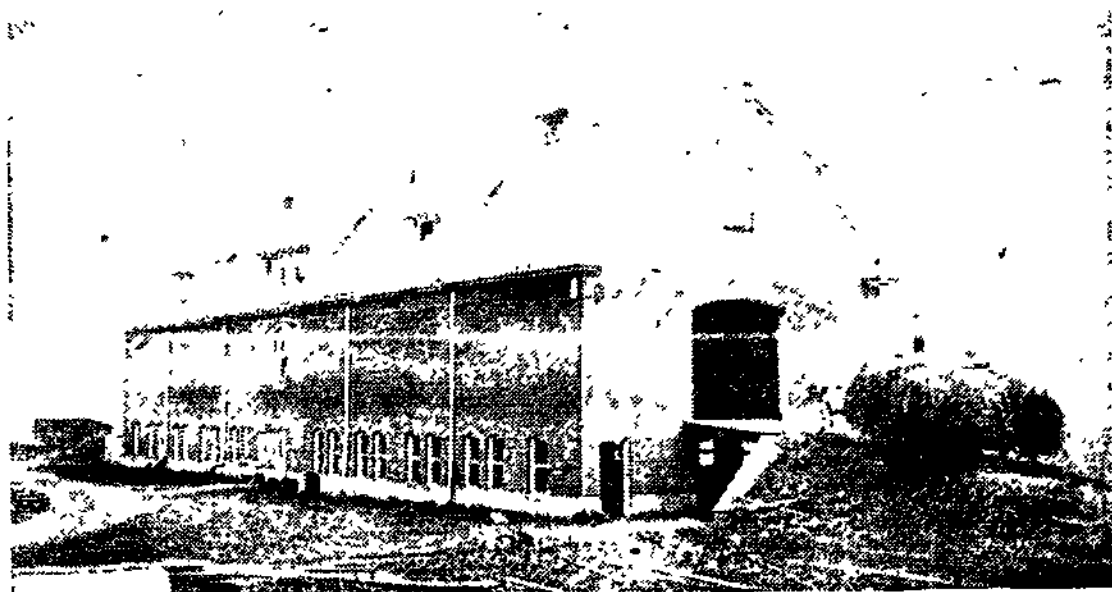

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council, in discussing plans for National Farm Safety Week, points out the importance of farm safety to the well-being of the nation and the happiness of the home.

Mr. Dearborn says: "There are two excellent reasons for adopting right attitudes toward farm safety. The first is that today's farmers are depending upon machinery to step up production per worker. An injury to any farm worker, therefore, affects the food supply, more than ever before. . . The second, and humanitarian reason is that right attitudes help prevent accidents to farmers and their families."

Maynard H. Coe, director of the National Safety Council's farm division, says: "The ninth observance of National Farm Safety Week will end on Saturday, July 26, but it certainly shouldn't be the end of farm safety. Right attitudes toward farm safety can save lives the year round. We cannot be free from deadly, crippling accidents if we practice safety for only one week, and then work carelessly the rest of the year."

"Right attitudes mean that you will take time to think safety and to act safely in the home, in the fields, and on the highway."

Modern Barn Replaces One Destroyed By Fire At Rouse

County Commissioners have taken formal possession of the new barn on the Rouse Farm in Youngsville, replacing the old structure which was destroyed by fire about two years ago.

Pictures above show the original barn, the ruins after the disastrous fire, and inside and outside views of the barn, one of the most modern in Pennsylvania.

The original barn was built about 40 years ago by the late Levi B. Hull at a cost to the county of about $14,000. Its construction was of three-course brick in the first story, and two-course in the second story, with a slate roof. A similar type of construction today would be prohibitive in cost.

Estimates secured by the Commissioners for reconstruction of the barn, following the fire, amounted to approximately $100,000, and were generally unsatisfactory.

Using the heavy foundation under the old barn, it was decided by the Commissioners to build anew and bids were asked. It was first necessary to consult the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture for specifications according to law, and for the Pennsylvania Art Commission to check on the architecture so that the new construction would conform to the general architectural pattern set up by the Commonwealth.

After much red tape, plans were agreed upon, and contracts totaling about $82,658 were let for the general construction, electrical and plumbing work necessary. The general contractor was the Chadakoin Construction Company, of Jamestown, N. Y., with electrical work done by C. Beckley, Inc., of Warren, and plumbing by the Sans Corporation, also of Jamestown.

With insurance money received, the total cost to the county was a little less than $10,000, most of which is represented by new equipment specified by the Commonwealth. The Commissioners said that they could have constructed within the insurance money received except for these additional features required by the Department of Agriculture.

The new barn is of one story type, and grass storage is in specially constructed silos instead of the conventional second floor or haymow storage. The new building is completely fireproof.

The Commissioners said that when the summer harvesting work at the Rouse Farm has eased, Superintendent Stanley Lawrence expects to arrange for a public inspection of the barn. Many have expressed an interest in looking over the work.

Season Here for Jelly-Making

With blackberries, raspberries, gooseberries, and currants in abundance, both in the garden and on the market, you naturally think of making jelly, says Gerry Johnston, home economics extension representative, Warren Co.

Currants, blackberries, and gooseberries are natural for jelly since they have the right balance of pectin and acid needed to make good jelly. Pectin and acid are essential for good jelly.

Underripe fruit contains the most pectin and acid, while ripe fruit has the best flavor and color. Combining the two gives the best results. Some fruits, like red and black berries, lack pectin, so a combination of fruit juices (perhaps apple or currant), or a commercial pectin, may be needed.

Mrs. Johnston advises you to work with small amounts of fruit at a time. Eight cups of fruit are about right. You'll find that two pounds of prepared fruit will give you about two cups of juice. Add sugar according to how many pounds of fruit you have— $\frac{1}{2}$ to 1 cup each pound of berries.

Clarify juice by straining a second time through a fresh jelly bag or four thicknesses of cheese cloth wrung out of hot water.

You test for doneness of jelly by dipping a spoon into the boiling sirup and checking when it runs off the side of the spoon, not in a steady stream, but in two distinct lines of drops which sheet together.

Fill clean, sterilized jars with hot sirup. Be sure jars are clean, for paraffin will only seal if the glass is clean and dry above the jelly's surface. Melt paraffin over low heat and pour over jelly, having paraffin no thicker than a 50-cent piece.

PICTURE NEWS

AROUND THE WORLD

IN RARE FORM—Mae West busted right into a demonstration of a new-type "Mae West" life jacket at the Navy submarine base at Groton, Conn., and declared herself very much pleased with the improved version. The inflatable jacket has a new color, which gives visibility of 16 miles at sea. "That's one thing we both have in common," quipped Mae. "We both can be seen from great distance." She described the new color as "Desirable Scarlet" but the prosaic Navy says it's "orange, just off red." Above, Molder First Class Cater B. East, helps Mae adjust the new jacket.

BERRY NICE—Wearing a blueberry necklace, Rhonda Shenwood samples some early Michigan blueberries. She'll reign over the annual Grand Haven Harvest Fiesta sponsored by Michigan blueberry growers.

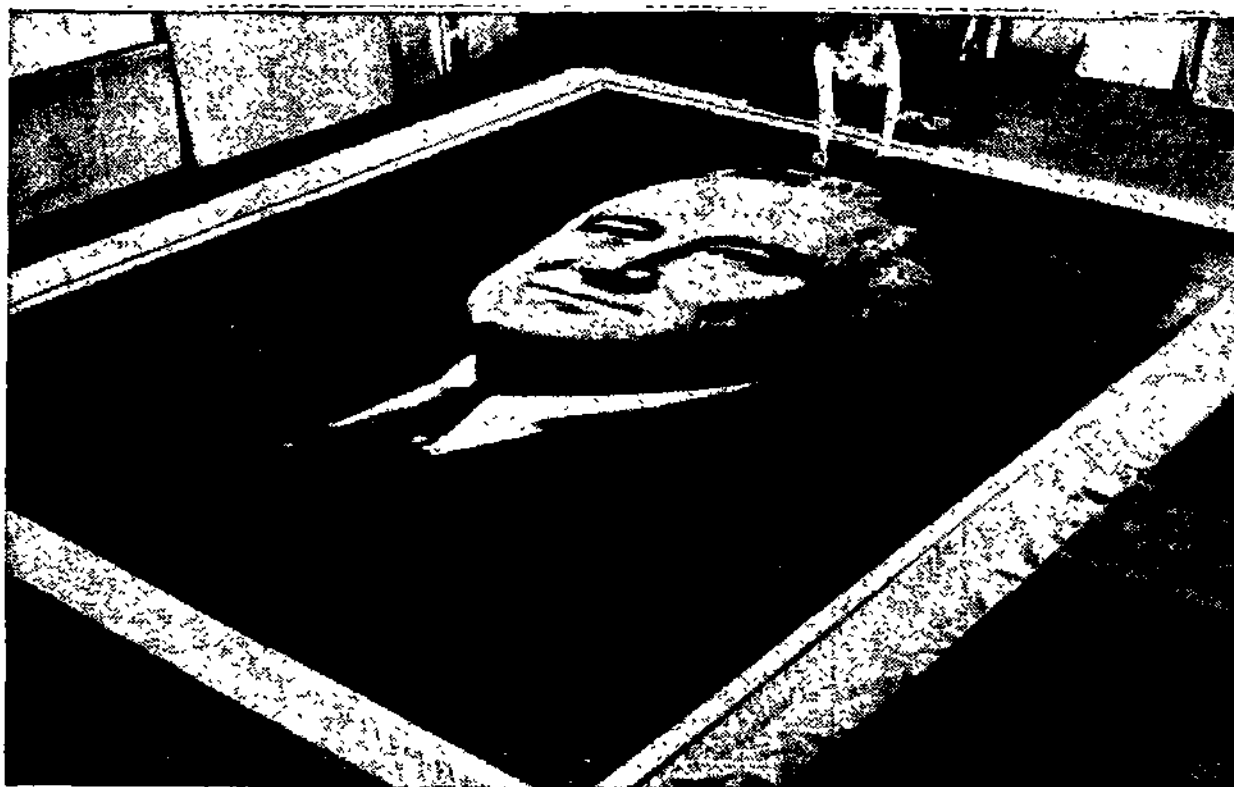

GETTING UP CONVENTION STEAM—Sen. Edwin Johnson, of Colorado, campaign manager for Sen. Richard B. Russell, of Georgia, gets a big hand from Russell's campaign staff, after his pep talk to the Russell boosters. Russell is en route to Chicago to take charge of his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

WASTED WORDS—Communist Max Reimann (arrow) makes a speech in the West German parliament at Bonn, attacking the West German peace pact. He talked to an almost empty room, because non-Communist deputies walked out on him, leaving one deputy from each party in the hall. All returned after Reimann finished his speech.

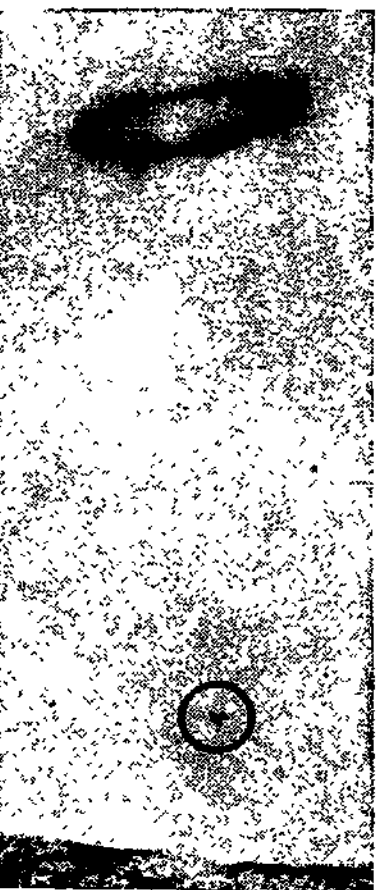

NOMINATOR—Sen. Walter F. George, above, of Georgia, will nominate his brother Georgian, Sen. Richard Russell as the Democratic candidate for the presidency.

CONVENTION FRAME-UP—A worker in Chicago puts the finishing touches on a huge 11-by-14-foot portrait of Franklin D. Roosevelt which will be one of the two principal decorative pieces at the Democratic Convention. The other will be a similar portrait of President Truman.

LOVE IS LONG—Marine Sgt. John R. Brown, in Korea, is all wrapped up in his correspondence. It's a 50-foot-long letter he received from a girl in the United States. The Preston, Idaho, marine is serving with the 1st Marine Aircraft Wing.

OLYMPIAN HEIGHTS—Canada's Alice Whitty opened her mouth and flattened out clearing the high-jump bar at Elisatharhan Sports Ground remaining in tune for the Olympic Games. Russian canoeists Arechenko, fore, and Perevochekov dug paddles into the choppy water at Taiyuanli. Texas A. and M.'s Darrow Hooper cocked his arm, rested the shot against his stern jaw, and wound up for prodigious puts in Helsinki. (NEA)

TREASURE TROVE—The whisper of a dying spinster has sent her cousins on a treasure-hunt through a litter-filled house in Detroit, Mich. Mrs. Emma Schuknecht, 76, whispered to her cousin, Mrs. Tillie Stoltz, "If anything happens to me, look in the closet—all my papers are there. A search through the house has uncovered, so far, more than $250,000 in cash and securities. From left: John Sobieski and Stanley Budnick, of the Wayne County Treasurer's Office, and Mrs. Esther Klotz, a cousin of Mrs. Schuknecht.

NO SUBWAY THIS—This picture was taken in San Antonio, Tex., and it looks as if the city is getting a new subway. On the contrary, instead of being a subterranean tube, the "subway" is the high-flying upper deck of the Air Force's KC-90. That's the cargo-carrier version of the B-36 bomber. The huge ship, 182 feet long, with a 230-foot wingspan, routinely carries a payload of more than 100,000 pounds.

RUGGED MUSCULINITY—Muscles, muscles, everywhere won Juan Ferrero, left, the title of "Mr. Universe" at an international contest in London. Ferrero, a Spaniard, lives in Bordeaux, France. Another winner, in his class, was Corrie Pretorius, right, of Johannesburg, South Africa.

IT'S A SIGN THEY LIKE NIXON—Sen. Richard M. Nixon, the Republican vice presidential candidate, was given a warm welcome by his neighbors when he returned to Washington, D. C., from Chicago. From left: Barbara Green, of Moscow, Idaho; Anne Wilson, of Bethesda, Md.; Marilyn Coombs, of Ross, Calif.; and Marlene Paulson, of Oakland, Calif.

PRELUDE TO VICTORY—Packed in the aisles tighter than sardines, delegates to the Republican National Convention gave a hysterical 42-minute demonstration after General Eisenhower's name had been placed in nomination.

SECOND GENERATION SCARECROW—Famed actor Fred Stone, who created the role of the Scarecrow in the "Wizard of Oz" and played it for five years, gives his daughter, Dorothy Stone, some expert pointers on costume and makeup. Dorothy is playing the role for the first time in the Sacramento Music Circus. The Stones are one of the oldest theatrical families still active in show business.

Bible Words to Live by

PSALM 37:5, "Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in him; and he shall bring it to pass."

My life philosophy is built on this divine promise. When I am in doubt as to a course of action I try first to think things through for myself, since we are never absolved from the necessity of intellectual effort. But if I am still in perplexity I place all the related factors before God in prayer. I pray about the problem as earnestly as I can. This I do repeatedly. Then I go away from the situation and cease to think about it.

When I then return after a few days to pray about the matter again, I usually find that by a process of incubation there has formed in my mind a solution to the problem. It is as though God had in the meantime taken all the parts of the picture puzzle and arranged them into an orderly pattern.

If no immediate answer is in sight I continue to wait and trust, in the calm assurance that God is working at it even while I sleep, just as surely as the wheat that the farmer has planted in the spring-time continues to grow even though he is away on a journey. The results are surprising. He brings it to pass."

Gideon: Greatness in Quality

quickly lapped up the water, and went on.

Then, knowing how great hosts in a false cause can be put into fear and confusion, with his lamps, pitchers, and trumpets he put his fear-stricken enemy to flight. (Judges 7)

It is a mistake to believe that the physical forces of violence and evil can be successfully opposed only by spiritual forces and means. We would not think of fighting an epidemic of disease by wishful thinking about health, or lectures on hygiene.

The physical nature of the epidemic must be met by physical opposing, and by counteracting means until conditions of health are restored.

This, I think, is true in relation to violence and war. There are times when spiritual force is not enough. A strong right arm is needed.

What the story of Gideon emphasizes is that a strong right arm, backed by faith and courage, will win against the forces of evil.

There is always weakness in the man, or group, or nation, whose cause is not right. We of the free world ought to be more zealous in making sure that our cause is right, and in eliminating and suppressing the weaknesses and evils from within that are as much a menace as the enemies from without.

Let us muster all our strength, and then back it up with all the faith, courage, and wise strategy of Gideon and his resourceful three hundred.

There are two kinds of largeness or greatness: greatness in quantity, and greatness in quality.

In a military way governments and generals have depended chiefly upon numbers. They have considered their strength in the size of their armies, or in the number of troops that they could put in the field.

Napoleon's ideal woman was the one with the most sons. He wanted men for his armies, and despite his great generalship and strategy he was a worshipper of force.

Conquerors and dictators have changed the face of history by the sheer hordes of violent men whom they have poured over vast regions, as in the days of Genghis Khan and Attila.

History is also rife with the story of how great armies have been overthrown and put to rout by much smaller forces of courageous, resolute men.

Of the latter, the Biblical and classic example is Gideon. He stands as the conspicuous example of belief in strength and greatness as consisting in quality.

That a general should reduce, instead of increase, his army against apparently overwhelming odds, would seem to be the height of folly. Yet that is exactly what Gideon did.

Gideon's strategy and devices were relatively simple. He rejected the men, who, stooping down, took a long time to drink, choosing the three hundred, who

Chuck Dressen Is Playing Old P. T. Barnum Line on Dodger Caliope to Flim Flam League

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Never give a sucker an even break."

Chuck Dressen is playing the old P. T. Barnum line on his Brooklyn caliope to flim flam the poor downtrodden brethren of the National League.

The Brooks have won 55 of 36 games—a glittering .972 pace—against Boston, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh, the 6th, 7th and 8th place clubs. Against the rest of the league, they're playing just .500 ball with 21 wins and 21 defeats.

It isn't always easy. Yesterday it took 11 innings at Cincinnati before Carl Furillo finally broke it up with a run-scoring single, 2-1.

The "big" American League series at Yankee Stadium ended with New York and Cleveland splitting a twilight-night doubleheader. As the Yanks took the series, 3-2, they added a full game to their lead, now measuring 4½ games.

Joe Collins' ninth inning home run off reliever Bob Lemon gave the Yanks the 5-4 second game. Allie Reynolds, who had pitched 18 complete games since last September 11, finally was knocked out of the box in the twilight game, won by Cleveland, 11-6.

Little Bobby Shantz turned in a six-hitter for Philadelphia against the St. Louis Browns to win his 16th, 3-1, in the second game of a two-night double header. The Browns won the opener, 9-5, when pitcher Tommy Byrne hit two singles, a double and a homer.

Spec Shea, a spectacular success at Washington since he was discarded by the Yankees, shut out Detroit with five hits and scored the only run to beat Hal Newhouse's five-hitter, 1-0.

Boston didn't know it was taking over second place when it squeaked past Chicago, 2-1, in the American's only day game.

Down in the second division of the National, the big noise was provided by Pittsburgh's sweep of a doubleheader with Philadelphia, 2-1 and 4-2.

Vern Bickford drove home the only run with a seventh-inning single in Boston's 1-0 edge over Chicago's Paul Minner.

Fourth Straight Is Chalked Up By The Thomas Couplers

Thomas Coupling remained the strength of the Industrial Softball League last night, when they chalked up their fourth straight this half by nipping Emblem Oil, 8-2.

Again it was Phil Hook's mighty arm that turned the trick for the Coupling combination, for he fanned 20 men and only let up one hit. He and his brother Paul made up the battery for Thomas, and both slammed homers during last night's fracas.

Warren Merchants to Battle Youngsville on Saturday for First Half Crown in League

Baseball fans will have a chance to see some real ball playing at the State Hospital diamond at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, when the Warren Merchants and Youngsville Merchants battle it out for the first-half Sunset League championship.

Following the big game at 5:30 p. m., the Clarendon Merchants and Florida of the Junior Hot Stove League will play off one game of a three-way tie for the first-half title. The winner of this game will play Youngsville Legion, the other team to end with a 6-1 record.

In the Sunset League, which is already half-way through the second half, the two tied teams finished their nine games with records of six wins and three losses.

Youngsville came into the home stretch by winning five out of six, while the Warren nine took the last five in a row. The out-of-town victories were two over both the Warren Merchants, Elks and Warren Business School, with one entry in the debit column for each. Their opponent Saturday beat the Schoolboys three times, the Elks twice, with the other defeat over them. They had two losses to Youngsville and one to the Elks.

So far this half Youngsville leads the circuit with three triumphs and a lone loss to the Schoolboys, while the Merchants stand tied for second place with 2-2.

Through The Wind Tunnel

Most days there just isn't any Wind Tunnel. It isn't because we do not like to write said Wind Tunnel, nor is it because you are not appreciative. On restaurant stools (and at other hospitality counters) you are kind enough to say "Where the so-and-so was the so-and-so Wind Tunnel yesterday, today, a week ago Choosday, or maybe tomorrow?" That depresses us because we did intend to put some Wind into the Tunnel for you. Hot Wind it is this sort of weather.

And today there isn't going to be any Wind Tunnel because you won't find us, all day, on that weakened chair in front of the roll top. Friday, 18 July, is our day!

What we're leading up to is just this: of all days in the year when there shouldn't be any wind tunnel, this is it! We're off to the circus, in fact, we crawled out of bed in the mysterious hour just before dawn, fed junior a can of Rival, gave him a pat (on the wrong end, it was so dark), and another can for good measure, with the promise, "See you tomorrow." His reply, sort of guttural, sounded like, "Take your time, Pop, but don't let 'em put you in a cage."

How ever we managed to cross Conewango Creek on the Sixth street bridge, we'll never know, but surely there was a Sixth street bridge because we found Harry Schmidt sitting on a camp stool in front of Number 6, Sixth, blowing up circus balloons for an admiring group of small fry who said they didn't much care whether they went to the circus or not just so he didn't run out of wind and kept making those peculiar sounds!

At 22½ West Fifth we could hear Dick Munch telling Jessie "She is not too young, she'll understand it all." The Miss Munch he was talking about was born 'way back July 5, 1862.

John Newmaker had given up completely and was sound asleep on the steps at 367 East with Dorothy telling him, "Come on, John, have a cup of coffee, those animals will wait." At the House of Blair, Sally said "Allan? Oh, he left here hours ago! He heard of some man at Marienville who wanted to buy two tickets!"

Jack Hickey's wife said he'd left for the unloading at 3:30, "but why did he take his fishing pole along?" Jeanne McCloskey said Ralph fell over a big can of bait as he left the house and she couldn't understand, either, why any man would take worms to a circus lot.

Coming down Market street, we heard John Donovan come out second best in his request to take their new youngster to the unloading, another early July arrival, but it was a real treat to drop in the Texas and find Gloria and Bob Johnson and their four daughters all ready to help Gargantua off the train. And Nummy Highhouse, who had just heard the circus was coming today, kept shaking his head and muttering "Why doesn't someone tell me these things?" Marie said she had enough circus right where she was and kept asking Nummy "Where's that lost I ordered two hours ago?" Harry stuck his head out of the kitchen long enough to express his regret that Margaret hadn't learned to sing "Laugh, Clown, Laugh."

Some of the town's brave young teen agers (their names would make good reading) amused only themselves by throwing hard green grapes into the crowd gathered at the Main avenue crossing. One little girl, struck in the eye, had to be taken home. The lad in the green shirt, told to "cut it out," demonstrated rather amazing loyalty when he pointed to his three buddies and said "These guys did it, too." A couple years in the Army will help him, we hope.

All Warren was on its early morning way to the South Side, happy, jubilant, expectant, truly American, laughing heartily when a benevolent old couple in an Ohio car slowed down and asked "Is it a big fire? Was anyone hurt?"

"Nope, but the Jaycees DID light another fuse!" said a widely-grinning youngster on the curb.

69 Countries Will Enter the Olympics

Helsinki (AP) — Another 24 hours and the greatest sports show on earth—the 15th summer Olympic games—will open on the Kelly green turf of Helsinki's modernistic stadium.

Sixty-nine countries, a record, and almost 8,000 athletes, another record, will be represented at the colorful ceremonies tomorrow.

A 70th nation may show up, but probably not by tomorrow.

The ticklish question of which China—Communist or Nationalist—can be the China in the games was settled temporarily yesterday. The International Olympic Committee voted to let both take part.

Nationalist China then said it did not care to play with the Communists here or anywhere else. The Nationalists promptly canceled any plans to compete.

As the big show here prepared to go on the committee confirmed final arrangements for the 1956 games at Melbourne.

Win Places Falcons Closer to the Top

By The Associated Press

The Jamestown Falcons moved a step closer toward regaining the lead in the Class D Pony Baseball League last night by edging Bradford, 1 to 0.

League-leading Hornell, meanwhile, lost a 6-0 game to the hard-pounding Hamilton Cardinals, holders of third place.

Elsewhere in the loop, Bradford beat Corning, 7 to 3, and Olean dumped Wellsville, 11 to 2, in the first of a twin bill, and then took the second, 9-3.

Bradford Man Wins Dicky-Ben Feature

Bradford's Nelson, in his No. "8 7/8," placed first of five cars that finished in the feature race at the Dicky-Ben Speedway Wednesday evening. Seventeen cars lined up for the start.

Coming in second in this event was Emory Mahan, of Warren, in his "8" ball, with Art Anderson in "51," third.

Other winners were:

First Heat: 1st—Don Price, Lottsville; second—Fred Retterer, Warren; second heat: 1st—Nelson, Bradford; 2nd—Art Anderson, Jamestown; first semi race: 1st—Bus Brooks, Warren; 2nd—Nelson, Bradford; second semi race: 1st—Larry Frank, Oronville, N. Y.; 2nd—Mahan, Warren; non-qualifiers: 1st—Bud Spindler, Bradford; 2nd—Martin, Warren.

BASEBALL TOURNEY AT N. Y. CANCELLED

Mr. Billquist, booking and publicity agent for the Marlin-Rockwell baseball club, has informed the Times-Mirror that the New York State baseball tournament, which was to open today, has been canceled.

The decision was made when it was learned that only two teams had entered the state tourney and under such circumstances the National Baseball Congress would not recognize the New York State winner in the nation-wide tournament.

Sam Dente Adds to Richards' Repute as Top Junk Dealer

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—When Chico Carrasquel went out for a month with a broken finger, most baseball men suspected that the holes would begin to show in the White Sox.

But Paul Richards, the major league's top junk dealer, always has a spare, especially in the first half of a race. Sam Joseph Dente stepped in at shortstop to keep the astonishing Chicago Americans on the pace and within arm's length of the lead at the halfway mark.

Asked why Dente was thrice traded, Richards replied: "I don't know."

"He's good enough for us," Richards could say the same thing about practically every other member of the White Sox squad.

He has turned in a remarkable job of putting used parts together. Richards says the White Sox are better physically, mentally and fundamentally than they were a year ago. The club has unmatched spirit.

"What power we possess comes and goes," points out Richards. "We'll be all right if we get some of it at the right time."

Excellent relief pitching by the left-handed Bill Kennedy and the right-handed Harry Dorish has played a tremendous part in the White Sox' success.

KENNEDY is the newest striking example of Richards' smooth handling. The Georgian very definitely was Wild Bill with the Little Brownies. Thoroughly domesticated, he saved one and won one against his former playmates the same afternoon. They never saw anything like it.

When Richards was called in from Seattle a year ago last Spring, everybody asked who was going to pitch for the White Sox. The staff closed the season with an earned-run average of 3.50, topped only by the Indians' hard throwers' 3.38. And Saul Rogovin showed the way to them all with 2.78.

The trade that brought Rogovin from the Tigers for Bob Catn is typical of the swaps that lifted the Chisox from the floor to affluence. The transactions that brought Fox, Minoso, Eddie Robinson and Pierce. At the outset last year, people also wondered where the White Sox were going to buy base hits, but the club wound up topping the league with .270.

Frank Lane turned in a smart job of procurement.

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS

By The Associated Press

Cotesville — Johnny Saxton, 146, New York, outpointed Bobby Lee, 147½, Baltimore, 10.

Daytona Beach, Fla. — Johnnie Craven, 135, Charlotte, N. C., stopped Ray Diaz, 140, Havana, 3.

The word "fiasco" comes from the Venetian glassblowers. It meant "fask," although it means "failure" in English.

WIN OVER KINZUA

The Ludlow Wildcats marked off their 12th win of the season last night, when they outdistanced Kinzua 7-4 at Wildcat Park. A correction that should also be noted is the Ludlow team was defeated 4-3 by Sherman and not victors as last night's Times-Mirror stated.

BIG BROWN TROUT
When Bill Dove walked into the Sports Dept. this morning carrying a beautiful 24½ inch brown trout to enter in the Times-Mirror Trout Contest, he didn't particularly care to confess where he snagged his prize catch, and who can blame him? The fish tipped the scales at five pounds and four ounces. Mr. Dove, who resides on Cobham Park Road, now leads the contest for the longest brownie.

GOLF TOURNAMENT
In the cross country tournament at the Coneywango Valley Country Club yesterday, Dr. Wallace Sedwick hit for low gross of 37 and low net of 32. Others with low net were Joe DeFrees, 34; Allen Gibson, 36; and P. H. Colt, George Juline and Pete Juliano, 37's.

Tomorrow the men golfers will participate in the Parshall Cup Tourney, the winner to be announced after the day's matches.

RISE TO THE BAIT—In a graceful curving leap, Speck, new spotted porpoise at the Oceanarium in Marineland, Fla., leaps for a piece of fish held by attendant Mitch Lightsey. Although a newcomer, Speck quickly learned to outjump the older residents of the pool.

IT SURE PILES UP—The boss may be away politickin', but the mailman never slows down on his appointed rounds. That's the sad fact realized by Sen. Richard M. Nixon, Republican candidate for the vice presidency. Above, he and his personal secretary, Rose Woods, look over some of the unanswered mail that piled up while the senator was at the GOP Convention in Chicago.

LETHAL "BABY"—This is the new, controversial FD-25 "Baby Bomber" offered by Fletcher Aircraft Corporation, of Pasadena, Calif. Designed to eliminate enemy ground installations at a fraction of the cost of a modern jet fighter, the plane is only 30 feet long, weighs 2500 pounds when fully armed and has a 230-H.P. engine.

Sow Tift Sudangrass For Best Midsummer Pasture

Sudangrass Pasture for Dairy Cows in West Virginia.

During the hot summer months when all cool-season grasses are less productive or completely dried up it is encouraging to have Sudangrass to fall back on. It is a quick-growing annual which in July and August can be depended upon to produce more nutritious, highly palatable forage than any other comparable crop. Sudangrass is, however, susceptible to certain foliar diseases which when prevalent, detract from its value for forage.

Tift Sudangrass was developed to meet the need for a disease-resistant variety for the humid regions of southeastern United States. It is more resistant to the leaf diseases than any other strain now offered. Since disease-free leaves are higher in protein and total digestible nutrients than diseased leaves, this variety produces more grazing of better quality over a longer period than other varieties, wherever foliar diseases are prevalent. During heavy disease epidemics in the southeast, Tift Sudan has produced grazing for a month or more after common and Sweet Sudan have died.

Tift Sudan is best adapted to the humid regions from eastern Texas and Oklahoma to the Atlantic Seaboard and from the Gulf of Mexico as far north as Beltsville, Maryland. Like all Sudangrass varieties, it requires soil well supplied with available plant food for best growth.

Sudangrass does not seed well in the area where the Tift variety is best adapted for forage, and Tift Sudangrass does not produce good seed yields in the Sudangrass seed-producing areas of Texas which produces over one-third of the Sudangrass seed in the United States. Tift Sudangrass, however, does produce good yields of seed in southwestern United States so a dependable source of seed is now assured. Reserves of foundation seed are now being built up and made available to certified seed growers in the better seed-producing areas.

Tift Sudan seed will probably sell for a few cents more than common or Sweet Sudan. This difference, usually amounting to less than one dollar per acre, represents a small part of the total cost involved in planting an acre of Sudangrass. The increased grazing that Tift Sudan will give in most years will exceed this investment many fold.

The Changing Landscape

"Tex" Neel
Soil Conservation Service,
Warren

Hello, folks. Well, this week we will see more and more machinery in the wheat fields in Warren county. The wheat has ripened fast in the past two weeks.

The annual Warren County Green Pastures Tour will be held on Wednesday, July 30. First place will be selected from the farms of Myron Ludwick, John Moravick and Steve Bosko. The tour will start from the Myron Ludwick farm, north of Lander, at 11:00 a. m.

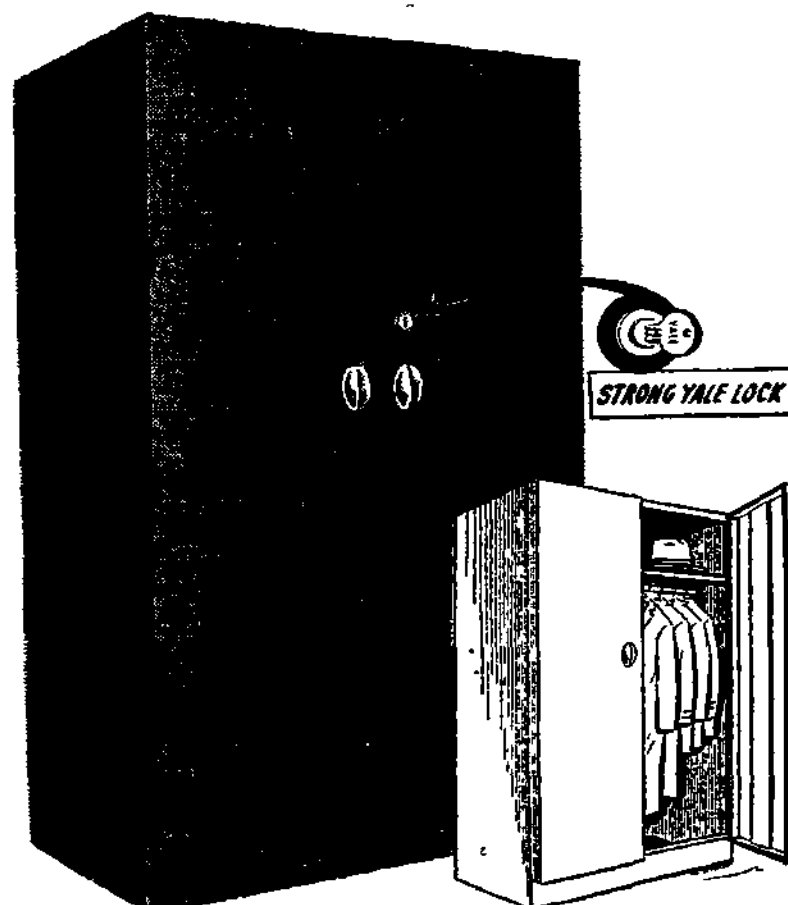

Jordan Christensen, Columbus township, has just completed a nice one-acre farm pond. The pond is fed by a year-around spring. Jordan is planning to use the pond for water in his new dairy barn which he is just completing, for fire protection, and for fishing and recreation. With the help of the SCS, Jordan has also completed surveys for 1,800 feet of diversion terraces which he plans to plow in himself using the island method.

A Forestry Training School will be held on July 22-23 for Vocational Agriculture and Veteran instructors of Warren county. The group will meet at the Court House Annex. Some of the subjects for discussion are: Identification of Trees, Effects of Grazing Timber, Estimating Cordwood Volume; Use of Cracking Sticks for Determining Volume of Standing Trees; Purpose of Planting, Thinning and Pruning; Log Rules, Markets and Specifications, and Fire Damage to Forest Products.
